

SOUTHWEST
PHILOSOPHICAL STUDIES

Volume 8, No. 2
Spring 1968

COVER DESIGNED BY : Jill Somoza

SOUTHWEST PHILOSOPHICAL STUDIES

Volume X, No. 3
Spring 1988

SOUTHWEST PHILOSOPHICAL STUDIES

VOLUME X, NO. 3
SPRING 1988

Editors: A. E. Keaton
New Mexico State University

Assistant Editors:
Marilyn Murray Cunnar
Martha Elena Rodriguez

Advisory Board

Ivan Little
Texas Tech University

Bill Springer
University of
Texas at El Paso

Kelth Lovin
Millersville State College

Howard Tuttle
University of
New Mexico

Spencer Wertz
Texas Christian University

Published through the assistance of the Department of Philosophy, New Mexico State University.

Permission to reprint materials from this journal requires permission of the authors. It is requested that this journal be credited with publication.

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS

Thomas Alexander teaches at Southern Illinois University at Carbondale. He is the author of John Dewey's Theory of Art, Experience, and Nature: The Horizons of Feeling (SUNY Press, 1987). In addition to American Philosophy, he is interested in classical philosophy and aesthetics. He is currently at work on a book on Dewey's social and political thought.

Stephen Barker teaches philosophy at Johns Hopkins University. During 1986-87 he served as Distinguished Visiting Professor at the University of New Mexico. He is now preparing a fifth edition of his Elements of Logic. Among his other books are Induction and Hypothesis and Philosophy of Mathematics. His areas of special interest include the theory of knowledge, the history of modern philosophy, logic, and professional ethics.

Houghton Dalrymple's articles have appeared in Southwest Philosophical Studies, Philosophical Topics and Contemporary Philosophy, and he has published two texts on Introductory Logic. His areas of specialization are British empiricism, Philosophy of Mind and Action Theory. He has taught at McMurry University, Auburn University, North Texas State University and the University of Texas at Arlington. He now resides in Arlington, Texas.

Patricia Deduck has published a book on Robbe-Grillet's and Nin's fictional theory, articles on Kafka and Laye, Robbe-Grillet, Tolstoy, Kazantzakis, and Flannery O'Connor; she teaches English and literature at Southwest Texas State University where she continues her study of literature and philosophy.

Emerine Glowienka is Professor of Philosophy at the Gallup Branch College of the University of New Mexico. Her other philosophical articles have appeared in The New Scholasticism, BioScience, Southwest Philosophical Studies, and Proceedings of the American Catholic Philosophical Association.

Anthony Graybosch teaches philosophy at Central State University in Oklahoma. He has published papers on nuclear deterrence, children's rights, and epistemology.

John H. Haddox has been teaching Philosophy at the University of Texas at El Paso for thirty years (nine of which serving as department chairman). Among his publications are Vasconcelos of Mexico: Philosopher and Prophet and Antonio Caso: Philosopher of Mexico (both by University of Texas Press, Austin), two monographs, and numerous articles in academic journals. He was chosen to be a member of the Seminario de la Cultura Mexicana, as the fellow of Samuel Ziegler Foundation for Human Rights, and is the only U.T. El Paso faculty member to receive both the Faculty Research Award and the Award for Distinguished Achievement in Teaching.

Charles J. Harriman B.A. from Columbia College, New York in Philosophy, 1957 followed by two years in U.S. Army Signal Corps. Worked on Wall Street for four years as assistant to the manager of the Purchasing Department at American Sugar Refining Company. Studied English at New York University graduate school. Taught English and Philosophy at an Illinois junior college for six years. Returned to graduate school in Philosophy. Received Ph.D. from University of New Mexico in 1972. Appointed to College of Santa Fe faculty that year. Chair of Humanities Department since 1981.

Vincent Luizzi is Professor and Chair of Philosophy at Southwest Texas State University. He writes primarily in the areas of philosophy of law and professional ethics and serves as a municipal judge and as a member of the Ethics Committee at Hays Memorial Hospital in San Marcos, Texas. He is currently writing a book on the philosophical dimensions of legal ethics.

Max Oelschlaeger has been a member of the Department of Philosophy at North Texas State University since 1974; he served as Chairman from 1977-85. His published works include The Environmental Imperative: A Socio-Economic Perspective (1977). He is presently working on a book length manuscript, entitled "The Idea of Wilderness: From Magna Mater to Biocentrism, and Beyond," that extends his interest in environmental affairs and ethics to wild nature.

Peter Robinson is Associate Professor of Philosophy at the University of Texas at El Paso. He has taught the range of undergraduate courses in philosophy but his area of specialization is the philosophy and history of science. He has published a variety of articles, mostly in Southwest Philosophical Studies and has completed a book on the concept of progress.

Lawrence K. Schmidt teaches philosophy and is Chairman of the Philosophy Department at Hendrix College, Conway, Arkansas. He received his Dr. Phil. in Philosophy (1983) from the Universitaet Duisburg in Germany. His book entitled The Epistemology of Han-George Gadamer is published by Peter Lang, Bern/NY. An article, "When the Text Speak the Truth: The Preconception of Completion," was recently published in The Southern Journal of Philosophy (Vol. 25, #3, 1987).

Jill Somoza designed the cover. She is a Las Cruces, New Mexico artist. She has studied at the Art Institute in Chicago, University of Iowa, University of Texas at El Paso and New Mexico State University and is a member of Las Cruces State of the Art (a group of contemporary artists). Her recent paintings consist of homemade paper mixed with acrylic. She is married to Poet-Professor Joe Somoza and they have three children, Lisa, David, and Michael.

Lee Stauffer received her doctorate in Philosophy from the University of New Mexico and currently teaches Philosophy for Albuquerque's TV-I. She has published widely in the fields of philosophy, linguistics, archaeology, and computer science.

Fred Gillette Sturm is Professor and Chair of the Department of Philosophy at the University of New Mexico, Honorary Professor of Foreign Language and Literatures at Shaanxi Teachers University (Xi'an, China), and Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Chinese Studies. A specialist in Philosophy of Art and Aesthetics, Iberian and Latin American Thought, and Chinese and East Asian Philosophy; he is Past President of the Society for Iberian and Latin American Thought, Fellow of the Centro de Estudos de Pensamento Luso-Brasileiro, Honorary Member of the Instituto Brasileiro de Filosofia, Fellow of the Royal Asiatic Society (Hong Kong Branch), and Fellow of the International Centre for Asian Studies.

Larry G. Taylor received his B.A. in English from the University of Texas at Austin and his M.A. in English from North Texas State University. He was also granted an M.A. and Ph.D. in Philosophy from the Florida State University. He is presently serving as an Associate Professor at New Mexico Highlands University. He is the author of "Frege and Husserl," "The Philosophy of Paul Ricoeur: Method and Application; Metaphor and Symbol," "Roman Ingarden's Notion of Polyphonic Harmony," and other works in the field.

Jack Weir is Professor of Philosophy at Hardin-Simmons University and specializes in ethics and philosophy of religion. His articles have appeared in Religious Perspectives, Contemporary Philosophy, and Southwestern Philosophical Studies.

Spencer Wertz teaches and chairs the Philosophy Department at Texas Christian University; his forthcoming book, Talking a Good Game: Inquiries into the Principles of Sport will be published by Southern Methodist University Press in Dallas, Texas. He co-edited an anthology, Sport Inside Out: Readings in Literature and Philosophy (Fort Worth: TCU Press, 1985) and is now working on a book about David Hume.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ARTICLES

| | | |
|---|---------------------|-------|
| Five Types of Theory Regarding Progress in the History of Philosophy | DONALD LEE | 1-10 |
| Arche, Dike, Physis : Anaximander's Principle of Natural Justice | THOMAS ALEXANDER | 11-20 |
| Hume's Causal Explanation of Causal Thinking | STEPHEN BARKER | 21-28 |
| Hume on Relations | HOUGHTON DALRYMPLE | 29-36 |
| Exorcising the Ghost of Parmenides | EMERINE GLOWIENKA | 37-47 |
| The End of the Mind-Body Problem | CHARLES HARRIMAN | 48-56 |
| Do Possible Persons Have Rights? | NANCY JECKER | 57-63 |
| Causal Implications of the Verification of Bell's Theorem | ALICE LEE STAUFFER | 64-68 |
| Leonardo Coimbra and the "Renascenca Portuguesa: " The Epistemology of Creationism" | FRED GILLETTE STURM | 69-77 |
| Communication in a Democratic Society | VINCENT LUIZZI | 78-82 |
| The Enlightening Perspective: A Hermeneutic Truth Criterion | LAWRENCE SCHMIDT | 83-90 |
| Vegetarianism and the Argument from Unnecessary Pain | JACK WEIR | 91-99 |

CONTENTS

ABSTRACTS

| | | |
|---|-------------------|---------|
| Meditation as Composition: Wallace Stevens' Existentialist Vision | PATRICIA DEDUCK | 100 |
| Prolegomena to Husserlian Phenomenology | DANE DEPP | 101 |
| First Beliefs | ANTHONY GRAYBOSCH | 102 |
| Aspects of the Philosophy of George Santayana | JOHN HADDOX | 103 |
| Henry David Thoreau: An American Original in the Socratic Tradition | MAX OELSCHLAEGER | 104-105 |
| Pity and Its Relatives | ROBERT REEVES | 106 |
| Progress in Metaphysics | PETER ROBINSON | 107 |
| "On Phaedo: Death as a Means for Life" | GAVIN ROWLEY | 108 |
| Pragmatism and Music: A Brief Look | ARTHUR STEWART | 109-110 |
| Trianosky on the Autonomy of Virtue Ethics | MARK STRASSER | 111 |
| Dialectic, Concept, and Time in the Phenomenology of Mind | LARRY TAYLOR | 112 |
| Chasing Paradigms: From the Corruption of Sport to Sport Samadhi | SPENCER WERTZ | 113-114 |