Published jointly by Weber State College (Ogden, Utah) and Southwest Texas State University (San Marcos, Texas) under the auspices of the New Mexico/West Texas Philosophical Society.

NOTE

Southwest Philosophical Studies currently publishes three numbers each year. These numbers each carry the proceedings of a philosophical society, together with a section consisting of short submitted papers. The short papers appearing in this issue should help prospective authors form some ideas concerning length and extent of documentation. In general, submitted papers should not exceed four journal pages and should focus on a single issue or point. Papers which are directed toward rebuttal, clarification or explication of issues raised in papers presented before the three sponsoring societies will be especially welcome.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Southwest Philosophical Studies wishes to acknowledge with gratitude funding for this issue from Southwest Texas State University's Development Foundation and Department of Psychology.
